

THE ASSOCIATED GENERAL CONTRACTORS OF GREATER FLORIDA, INC.
& DESIGN BUILD INSTITUTE OF AMERICA FLORIDA REGION, INC.

Joint Membership Meeting - Orlando July 14, 2009

The Integrated Project Delivery (IPD) approach integrates all team members, including the owner, architect, construction manager, engineers, and subcontractors, to form a collaborative effort. The core group consists of the owner, the architects and engineers, and the contractors. Integrated project delivery (IPD) is emerging as the way to deliver projects faster at a time when the industry is searching for ways to eliminate waste, reduce costs, increase productivity, and create positive outcomes. IPD is based upon a three-pronged platform with the owner as one entity, the architects and engineers as the second, and the contractors or builders as the third. Design Build, one IPD approach, integrates the a/e and the constructor as one team for a truly integrated project delivery approach.

AGC and DBIA jointly present

IPD OVERVIEW & DISCUSSION

An industry panel including: Joanne Carol Flick - City of Daytona Beach, Kevin M. Cornish, PE - Parsons Transportation Group, and Christina Huber - Skanska will discuss the pros, cons and benefits of Integrated Project Delivery. Panel will be moderated by John Giachino, DBIA Florida Region Board Member and DBIA Water/Wastewater Markets Committee - Parsons

Tuesday, July 14, 2009 12:00 pm

Maison & Jardin, 430 South Wymore Road
Altamonte Springs, FL 32714

$30 per AGC or DBIA member
$40 per non-member

Please RSVP by July 9, 2009 to Karen Wallace
407-563-1410 phone 407-563-1411 fax kwallace@fldbia.org

REGISTRATION FORM

Design-Build Institute of America Florida Region, Inc.
PO Box 781172, Orlando, FL 32828
407.563.1410 www.fldbja.org

Company Name

Contact/Phone

Attendee Names

Email

Attending

Total Amount

Please Invoice
(Members Only)

Check Enclosed

TO PAY BY CREDIT CARD, GO ONLINE TO <http://WWW.ACTEVA.COM/GO/FLDBIA> PROCESSING FEE APPLIES.

Please fax registration to 407-563-1410 or register by email kwallace@fldbia.org
Any questions call Karen Wallace at 407-563-1410.

Cancellation Policy: Companies are responsible for payment of all reservations not cancelled by the registration deadline.

Registration Deadline – July 9, 2009